Mentoring will take center stage at the IEEE Life Members conference.

Proven IEEE leaders will create a path for future leaders—offering essential perspectives on mentoring, career paths, and what’s in store for professional positioning in the engineering field. The session will include an engaging panel discussion, workshop, and brainstorming exercise.

Students, early career engineers, seasoned professionals, and retirees all have their own journey and wisdom to impart—and all are welcome. Be a leader by sharing your knowledge and paving the way for others to succeed.
